

Hari Buggana is the Managing Director of InvAscent - the Investment Advisor of Evolence India Life Sciences Fund. Prior to this, Hari was a consultant with McKinsey & Company. During his stint at McKinsey, Hari primarily worked with Life Sciences businesses in the US, Europe, and India on a variety of issues ranging from corporate strategy, mergers & acquisitions, product-market strategy, R&D productivity, organizational effectiveness, and operations improvement. Prior to joining McKinsey, Hari worked as a scientist in the Pharmaceutical Products Division of Abbott Laboratories, USA. Hari has a MBA from Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University and a M.S. in Chemical Engineering from Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago.

Evolence India Life Sciences Fund is a Private Equity firm that provides growth capital to established small and mid-sized companies in pharmaceutical, medical device, and medical services segments of the Indian healthcare sector. Portfolio companies include a specialty generic injectables company with US FDA approved manufacturing facilities; India's first cancer care network with 16 super specialty centers across the country; a US FDA approved manufacturer of specialized medicines for treating Central Nervous System disorders; India's second largest manufacturer of surgical consumables; and India's largest producer of Vitamin D3.